

Recognitions and Awards

In 2015, the summer program designed by Gustolab International & the University of Massachusetts Amherst were selected as one of the top five nominees in the GoAbroad Innovation Award category: Innovative New Program – Study Abroad.

GLi's Critical Studies on Food in Italy summer program received an Educational Project patronage from the Milan Expo 2015.

Our former academic director Dr. Sonia Massari was awarded the 2014 Innovative Research in International Education Award. This award, supported by NAFSA's Teaching, Learning, and Scholarship Knowledge Community, celebrates and recognizes new and innovative research that has made an impact in the field of international education.
